Plot Against Los Angeles

POLITICIANS IN NORTH WOULD DEPRIVE SOUTH OF LEGISLATIVE RIGHTS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 13.—Plans of a small group of Northem politicians to create discord in Southern California by a reappportionment of legislative representation by the State constitution will be aired at a meeting tomorrow.

In the guise of "protecting the rural districts from domination by the large cities," those responsible for the meeting announced their intention to block any reappportionment, even to the extreme of asking a majority of the members in Legislature to violate their oaths of office.

LOS ANGELES TARGET.

Los Angeles city is the principal object of attack. "no reappportioning" is hoping to gain two additional State Senators and six additional Assemblymen, assured by the State constitution on the basis of population gains in the last ten years.

It is proposed to give each of the fifty-eight counties of the State one Senator, instead of following the present constitutional distribution of California, which gives the Senate forty members representing forty sections as nearly equal in population as can be determined by the Legislature. The present arrangement, it is asserted, gives Assemblymen from so many equally populated districts is not to be attacked.

In order to obtain support for the reappportioning scheme, Southern California is a campaign against Los Angeles city is contemplated in which agricultural sections and smaller communities in the southern part of the state will be asked to support the movement.

A constitutional amendment increasing the State Senate to fifty-eight members has been prepared by a subcommittee of the House of Representatives. Approval will be submitted to the Legislature at the special legislative session which Gov. Stephens is expected to call as soon as Congress passes a new Congressional redistricting bill.

Assembleyman Van Bernard of Orange county said today that he would introduce the Constitutional Committee for reappportionment to be taken in the Legislature.

The attitudes of the Stephens administration toward the proposed effort is not clear. The Governor's adherents strenuously denied today a charge that close advisers of Stephens are responsible for calling the special session.

It is claimed that politicians who hope to obtain the Governor's reelection next year have been instrumental in having the special session called.

JAPANESE MAKING LITTLE PROGRESS WITH KOREANS.

Odd, Lovable Inhabitants of Hermit Kingdom Refuse to Accept "Assimilation Policy."

BY LOUIS SEIDOLD.

(This is the sixteenth of the series of articles by Louis Seidold dealing with Japanese questions. The next article will deal with the characteristics of the people of Japan.)

(BY LOUIS SEIDOLD—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

FUSAN (Korea) Oct. 13.—The natives of the Hermit Kingdom, who date their somewhat obscure origin back many thousands of years, are appealing figures of dignity, of benevolence and of inassable, though suppressed, ambition to rule their own country. They still cling to the costume and customs of the ancient Ming dynasty of China, but have been coerced and bullied so long that they have almost forgotten how to properly assert their rights. Force has little place in the general scheme of life among the odd and lovable people who live in the Land of the Morning Calm, now ruled with an iron hand by the splendidly equipped troops of the Mikado's empire.

Yet the resentment of the Koreans against the forceful seizure and annexation of their country by the Japanese Empire is fervent, deep and unrelenting. The fire of patriotism, smothered by the military forces of Japan, not only refuses to be extinguished but glows with supernormal energy and frequently blazes forth in fury.

HAS NOT SUCCEEDED.

The best part of two weeks devoted to diligent, though discreet, inquiry in Korea convinced me of this. The Korean people, in fact, are stirred around the old Hermit Kingdom that on the surface appears to be still drawing in contemplation of past glories. Its soldiers have forced upon the lower and middle classes an organized authority that makes for modern processes and material advantages. But Japan has not succeeded in changing the Korean nation or assimilating it to Japanese ways of life.

The success of the policies by which the Mikado's government hopes to develop deep rooted love of country.

CHANGING COUNTRY.

On the surface Korea is wholly Japanese. By characteristic and tradition, however, failing to destroy the arts and literature of the old kingdom that sleeps with one eye open. By the processes of education Japan is making the official language of the country appear instead of Korean. By the introduction of railroads as well as equipped and operated as some in America she is opening up the country to the commerce of the world.

By the substitution of its financial system, the encouragement of scientific agricultural methods, the condition of the people is being gradually improved. If the application of modern standards of living in Japan improving the health of one of the most picturesque peoples on the face of the earth.

INNOVATIONS PLANNED.

Winter maneuvers of the combined fleets will include at least two innovations, the new findings of Northern housing the whole administrative staff of Admiral Jones, and the newly organized fleet air forces.

The feature of the maneuvers in Panama Bay about February 27 will be the gunnery exercises conducted with the former battleship Iowa. The Iowa will be under radio control for the exercises.

After fleet maneuvers off Guanabaya Bay, the fleet will sail for the canal January 28, being due at Panama Bay February 6.

PACIFIC FLEET MOVE.

It is understood that the Pacific Fleet, under Admiral Jones, will sail from San Francisco about February 1.

Details of the combined fleet maneuvers have not been announced, but the solution of a general marine war problem involving all elements

Wages and Prices Due for Fall.

Employer Members of Unemployment Conference Say All Must Bear Burden.

Assert High Cost of Production Keeps Commodity at High Figure.

BY ARTHUR BEARS HENNING.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—That neither commodity prices nor wage rates can be maintained above the natural economic level is asserted in a statement issued by the employer members of President Harding's conference on unemployment today upon the final adjournment of the conference. They declare that prices and wages rose substantially hand in hand during the war, but that since that time prices have declined more rapidly than wages.

"The drastic economic adjustment through which we must pass is a matter of great price and value for goods and services," says the statement. "Employers and employees, manufacturers, merchants, distributors, transporters, et cetera, must meet them."

HIGH PRODUCTION COSTS.

The employers maintain in their statement that their principal difficulty is a high and unbalanced cost of production which is keeping goods and services beyond the buying power of consumers and creates difficulties upon such terms that we may reciprocally absorb each other's products."

The government can do its part.

It is asserted, by setting the cost of business operation represented in taxation, quickly, simply and intelligently.

A flat declaration against any general policy of wage reduction is contained in minority views of the labor members of the subcommittee on manufactures, signed by Samuel Gompers, James A. Conroy and Roy Dickinson.

UNIONISTS OBJECT.

"On the contrary, there must be a policy calling for the highest possible rate of wages in every industry," says the minority report. In opposition to general wage reduction, "in view of individual differences in cost of production and differences upon such terms that we may reciprocally absorb each other's products."

LAMONT SEEKS DATA ON LOAN

Mexico's Foreign Debt Only is Discussed.

Recognition of Obregon Not Question at Issue.

American Financier's Trip is Merely Personal.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 13.—The presence of Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co. has given rise to a variety of wild rumors likely to mislead opinion both in the United States and Mexico.

Mr. Lamont is here as chairman of the International Committee of Foreign Bondholders. The interest of Mexico's external obligations is far in arrears, and the continuing strength of the Obregon government warrants hope of eventual rehabilitation of the national finances and opening the way for present discussions and negotiations.

Mr. Lamont had three conferences with Adolfo de la Huerta, the Finance Minister, as well as ceremonial interviews with President Obregon and Foreign Minister Pan.

Public opinion will not, however, be satisfied with these simple facts. Interest in the question of the recognition of the Mexican government by the United States is at fever heat.

[CENTER OF INQUIRY]

Ever since Mr. Lamont crossed the border at Laredo last week he has been the center of sensational stories.

The responsible press here reports that Mr. Lamont maintains a hopeful bearing but that his lips are automatically sealed, that his countenance is open, but his lips closed.

The fact is that Mr. Lamont's negotiations are concerned solely with the question of Mexico's foreign debt, and as yet have had no definite result, although rumors seemingly emanating from a high Mexican authority indicate that the United States will recognize the country. Those who are most closely familiar with the many difficulties of the situation are least likely to be confident of the ultimate outcome.

FINANCE DEMANDS PRESSING.

There can be no doubt of the richness of Mexican resources or of the good will of the present government. The country is quiet and prosperous at the moment, and its districts business is surprisingly active. But Mexico as a whole is still suffering from its chaotic past and the damage upon the finances of the government are immediate and pressing.

As for recognition, it is still in the hands of the American State Department for a "preliminary treaty" safeguarding American interests. To be valid such a treat would require the consent of Congress. The manner in which the demand was presented has sorely wounded Mexican pride and has seemed to make it difficult for President Obregon to accept the recognition, even if he, as was the case with an American President in the recent past, were disposed to execute such a treaty.

FOREIGN LOAN DOUBTFUL.

Europe's problematical is the case of a new foreign loan, upon which the hopes of American promoters are based. Before it can be issued, however, through the colloquy by directing the Senator to proceed. The Senator merely asked the Wizard if he knew of the big organization he should be recognized here to be ignored, however reluctantly. It demands that the future development of Mexico shall be exclusively controlled by Mexicans.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Neither commodity prices nor wage rates can be maintained above the natural economic level, according to a statement issued by the employer members of President Harding's conference on unemployment which adjourned yesterday.

Irreconcilable Senators are endeavoring to fill the gap in their ranks caused by the sudden death of Senator Knox. Senator Poinciana is their candidate for the vacancy on the Foreign Relations Committee.

Ratification of the peace treaties will be delayed until next week, probably until Wednesday, as a result of Senator Knox's death.

While no official advices have been received from London as to the personnel of the British delegation to the Washington conference, it was stated today that one delegate will be the Hon. George Foster Pearce of Australia, who sailed today for Vancouver.

Formation of additional live-stock loan companies to aid in the financing of the industry in co-operation with the War Finance Corporation is urgently needed, according to a statement made today by Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the corporation.

Final action on the tax bill in the Senate now seems unlikely before week after next.

Col. William Joseph Simmons, imperial wizard, collapsed on the stand today during the Congressional investigation of the Ku Klux Klan. Senator Watson of Georgia created a diversion by insisting on appearing in the Wizard's behalf.

KU KLUX HEAD COLLAPSES.

William J. Simmons Defends Organization Before House Committee; Dramatic Incidents Many.

[BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Closing an all-day defense of the Ku Klux Klan, William J. Simmons, its imperial wizard, toppled over in a chair today while the chairman of the House investigating committee was attempting to stop the applause which broke before the crowd knew he had collapsed.

Friends of Mr. Simmons supplied stimulants but as it was evident he was in no condition to continue, the hearing, filled with many dramatic incidents, was adjourned until tomorrow. Physicians later reported his condition was not serious.

Bundled up about the chest, Mr. Simmons returned this afternoon, unsteady, his voice hoarse, but apparently eager to denounce what he characterized as outrages against the organization he founded in George's five years ago. He collapsed at times while the wizard held aloft the ritual of the Klan, holding parts of the oath taken by klansmen.

WIZARD COLLAPSES.

"If this organization is unworthy, then let me know how I can destroy it," he declared. "But if it is not, then let it stand." Turning to the crowd, Simmons declared he wanted to "call on the Father to forgive him if he had persecuted the Klan" and as the wizard left his lips he stumbled into a heap.

The first dramatic incident was the appearance of Senator Watson of Georgia, who sprang up and took the wizard by the hand, whispering something, he turned and sat down, but a moment later was on his feet, demanding the right to question the witness in the interest of justice. The senator, however, was not able to get a response from the Wizard, who was too weak to speak. The second dramatic incident was the arrival of the Klan, heralded as having passed the half-million mark, actually was about 50,000, which had been its growth East and West had been greater than in the South.

Representative Garrett, Democrat of Illinois, insisted he had right, first announcing, however, that he was not a klansman, although in sympathy with its aims, to withdraw his name through the colloquy by directing the Senator to proceed. The Senator merely asked the Wizard if he knew of the big organization he should be recognized here to be ignored, however reluctantly. It demands that the future development of Mexico shall be exclusively controlled by Mexicans.

REFUSE TO WORK;
GRUB CUT-OFF.Mexicans in Arizona Who Do
Not Care for Laborers of the Cotton Fields Lose,

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

JEROME (Ariz.) Oct. 12.—

Jerome has about 400 idle

Mexicans who on the approach of winter are about to have demonstration of the difficulty that will be experienced in trying to get along without employment. They have been getting relief through the Salvation Army for much of the time since the mines closed.

A short time ago they were listed for work in the cotton fields of the Salt River Valley.

Or the 400 who agreed to go

only thirty appeared at the time set for assembling. The Salvation Army has cut the others off the charity list and there is expectation that the mild winter climate of Southern Arizona soon will have attraction for the Jerome unemployed.

on transportation states that in June, 1921, there were $60,000 men were on the railroad payroll, nearly 16 per cent of the total number, employed in the railroad service.

The committee recommends that the public adopt the policy of immediate general reduction of production due to demand.

A plan is devised to direct such buying as far as it may be practicable

into the lines where unemployment is most serious.

HERE'S HOW FARMER

The committee on agriculture in its report recommends that all

prices and all wages be so adjusted that a "normal reasonable ratio will be established between the incomes

of farmers, workers and business and the purchasing power of the farmer

may be restored, thus hastening the resumption of normal trade, manufacture and the employment of labor.

RECLAMATION URGED.

The committee on emergency

public works for reclamation recommends that reclamation developments be continued more intensively

during the winter 1931-32, and that congress grant immediate concession of land to the reclamation fund

for the prosecution of projects already under way.

It is stated that an appropriation of $10 million for reclamation projects under way should provide employment for 16,000 or more men

during the coming winter, and that an additional $10 million should be available to provide employment for 28,000 more men, permitting new work to be begun on four new projects.

COAL SITUATION.

The report of the committee on mining in discussing the bituminous coal situation holds that the problem is primarily one of supply and demand.

The report recommends that the Esch-Cummins Act

be hereafter rigidly enforced to make sure that there is no attempt to substitute railroad cars

as a substitute for assigned cars and to avert the peak load at bituminous coal fields.

The report further recommends that the coal industry be given a stimulus to increase its output.

son's patched-up eleven, in spite of Coffey's pessimism. Although Hollywood has undoubtedly the best baseball team, the RailSplitters are also in better shape than when they played Polytechnic to a scoreless tie last Friday. Johnson has turned over his team, young men of the first bunch, and promoted three substitutes from the second team. Houseman, Meeks and O'Brien have landed on the first team-up, in view of the fact that Gastine's performance in swimming, while Dornay has been shifted from full to guard.

IRON IN AGAIN.

Tony Parra, All-City end last season, is once more in the game again, although down on one shoulder. Stapler, Lincoln's fleet-footed track star, will start the game at half, and his speed will be a big asset to Davis' aggregation. Divisional champion at Lincoln, he figures that in the five minutes Stapler was in action last week he made more yards than any other back did in an entire quarter.

Gastine, however, has not been letting any of the long uncut grow unclipped for a number of feet. It is just as confident as ever. Coffey, as Jack Johnson, is a stay-at-home. Hand training has been his daily program for some time.

TWO CRACKS.

Tonight's semi-wind-up bout ought to be as good as the main event. Coffey's record stands up two crack boxers in Chat Nell and Joe Dundee.

Nell has done considerable boxing in the past, but this might be attributed to his career-consciousness.

Poly will be outweighed, but the dashy work of Quarterback Soloman and Halfback Erhardt is expected to contribute to the Bulldogs' advantage in poundsage.

tempering their condolences over the loss of the series with congratulations on the showing the Yankees made in the first world's title series in which a New York American team has earned the right to compete.

Winning of the final game was due to the superb pitching of Nehf against a moundsman to whom he previously had twice lost the decision. Allowing the American league batsmen but four hits, all singles and three of them coming with two men out, the crafty southpaw again and again turned the tables in his favor, baffling their determined efforts to put across the solitary run for which they were struggling.

RAH FOR HOYT.

Hardly a whit less creditable was the performance of Hopyt, the Yankee youngster who twice before had taken Nehf's measure in close battles. Hoyt was in trouble in the ninth, but escaped the fatal first when the Giants scored their only tally on two bases on balls and an error, he worked himself out brilliantly, once with a fine play, once with a foul ball, helping Fewster to help.

Toward the end he was going stronger than ever, retiring the Giants in order in the eighth and ninth.

The game won by the Giants in the first inning was probably saved for them in the ninth by as brilliant a fielding performance as has been seen in many a day.

One Yankee had been retired in the first game. This time it was Babe Ruth, again in uniform, but confining his activities heretofore in the game to the coaching lines. Yankee fans picked up home and cheered wildly when Ruth stepped up to bat for Wally Pipp.

VALLANT TRY.

He made a valiant try, but his injured arm had taken the power from his swing and the best he could do with Nehf's pulsing delivery was to ground weakly to Kelly.

Aaron Ward was more fortunate. He waited out Nehf and finally walked.

Frank Baker, again in the line-up in place of the injured McNally, came next. With the count three and two he met one of Nehf's offerings squarely. It shot toward the left field skimmer in the ground fair in the left of John Rossignol. It looked like a sure hit, and with Ward legging it for third it promised to put the Yankees in a favorable scoring position if it got by.

But it did not pass. Throwing himself at the skimming sphere, Rawlings reached out and clung to it with his hand, pulling himself over and transferring the ball to his left hand. Rawlings made the throw to Kelly at first while still on the ground, getting Baker by several feet.

Then Kelly, with a lightning-like throw, shot the ball to Third Baseman Frank Frisch. A cloud of dust rose over the field as Kelly slid. From the midst of it Umpire Quigley's form emerged, his right arm flung forth, motioning the runner out. The double play had been completed and the game was over. The Giants had won the world championship.

WITHOUT A HIT.

The Giants' run was scored without the benefit of a hit. With Burns disposed of as fast as Burns dashed his grounder to Pipp, Bancroft walked on five pitched balls. He held firm while Frisch was fouling out. Pipp had a single as well as Hoyt, with the count two and three, walked Young. There was a short protest by Hoyt on the fourth ball, with which the young twirler insisted he had cut the plate.

With Bancroft on second, Kelly

Occidental and U.S.C. Meet on Patterson Field.

Trojans Look Winners by a Heavy Count.

But the Tigers Will Put Up an Awful Fight.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

One of the biggest games of the year, as far as intense interest and ancient rivalry are concerned, is the little football brawl between U.S.C. and Occidental, scheduled for Patterson Field tomorrow afternoon.

The respective student bodies have about as much love for each other as they have for raincoats. U.S.C. like its antelope should be crushed under foot, argue Oxen. Scorpions are good bedfellows for Occidental folk, return the Trojans. And so goes the old story.

NO DIFFERENCE.

Occidental may upset U.S.C., or U.S.C. may murder Occidental. It makes no difference to the rooting sections. They'll be out there yelling their heads off just the same.

And the gloomies on the field will continue to the last man of good U.S.C.-Occidental friends have promised much in the past two years, and tomorrow's fracas doesn't appear to be any exception.

Two years ago the Oxen beat the tiger and they never gave it back.

In retaliation, some ambitious Occidental young men last spring rammed their cars into the Oxen's tailgate and hauled it upside down parade before the student body. As a final and consummate act of Machiavellian devilry they carefully placed it upon the ground and wiped their feet upon it.

This was the procedure yesterday at the Occidental chapel rally, a rally and the famous Ox tiger was brought forth to receive his annual baptism of H.B.

Meanwhile the coaches have been sending their men through night lights for the game tomorrow.

SHY ON SHURE.

Shy on good substitute material Coach Joe Pipal has risked his Tigers in no further practice games.

By Edwin Schallert

Soloists for the various popular concerts by the Philharmonic Orchestra include a number of resident musicians of note, according to announcement made this week. Besides members of the orchestra itself, the featured artists will include principally singers.

At the first concert, the 26th inst., will sing. The program for this affair is now being arranged by Walter Henry Rothwell, while rehearsals are in progress for the first concert, on Friday evening, afternoon and Saturday evening of next week.

Other popular soloists will probably include Clifford Lott, baritone; Edward Dryfus, contralto; Miss Catherine Shirk, soprano; Maude Norman Reilly, contralto; Harold W. Stanton, dramatic tenor; Mabel Streep, dramatic soprano; Mabel Van Den Berg, pianist; Grace Wagner, soprano; Florence daugh, contralto; Sylvain Neak, violinist; Hy Bronson, cellist; Henri de Brucher, oboe; Henry Sved, violoncello; Alred Kastner, harpist, and Julie Lapke, violinist.

Solavsky Ensemble.

The Solavsky Chamber Music Society, headed by Alexander Solavsky, formerly concert master of the New York Philharmonic, leader of the Los Angeles Symphony, is to play a program of modern compositions Saturday evening at the Town Hall, 10th and Hill streets. The members of the trio, besides Solavsky, are Maurice Amsterdam, violin-cellist, and Frank Moss, pianist. The program will include trios by Dvorak and Tchaikovsky and Caesar Franck's Sonata.

Piano Solos at Grauman's.

Soloists for the orchestral concert to be given under the direction of Mischa Guterson Sunday evening.

Grauman's will be Colette Jaquard, pianist. She will play Rubinstein's Piano Concerto in D minor with the orchestra. Although of French parentage, Miss Jaquard was born in this country, and received all her musical education in America.

The orchestral program will be dedicated to old Grauman's widow, the late D. J. Grauman.

A walk of her own composition will be played during the concert.

"Great Moment" at De Luxe.

Glyn's stock company, Gloria Swanson, is showing at the De Luxe Theater. The picture recently had a very successful run at a downtown house.

Beery in Wicked Role.

Wallace Beery, screen villain, has been added to the cast of "The October Moon," now in production at the Goldwyn studios under the direction of Wallace Worsley. Beery is playing the role of an ape-man and looks very gruesome.

Mabel to Stay in East.

With "Mabel O' ready to ship East for its premiere, announcement has been made that Mabel Normand will not return to Los Angeles until the film is shown in New York City, where she is staying at the present time. E. M. Asher is personally to take the film East.

At Our with Manager.

The new artist to have a rumpus with his manager is Louis Gravereau. It would appear by reports from the East, a Detroit rawhouser carries a story about complications over a position in the office of which W. H. C. Burns. Mr. Gravereau, manager, notified his attorneys to "return the money" to all who purchased tickets for a Gravereau recital.

Gravereau further stated that if Mr. Gravereau attempts to give a recital in any city, legal action will immediately be taken to obtain a portion of the proceeds assured Mr. Gravereau by his attorney.

Pauline Frederick Returns.

Having spent the past two weeks filming exteriors at Big Bear Lake, Pauline Frederick and her company, making "Just a Girl" for the Goldwyn-Cole distribution, will return to this city about the first of the week.

The photoplay is from a novel by Jackson Gregory, and is laid on a large ranch.

SHUTTLE CARS MAY BE PUT IN DISCARD.

Pass-key Used to Steal Gems of Dallas Man.

Pass-key burglars operating in the large downtown hotels Tuesday morning escaped with jewels valued at $5000 from the rooms of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Keatons. Police and hotel authorities expressed the opinion that if Mr. Keatons attempts to give a recital in any city, legal action will immediately be taken to obtain a portion of the proceeds assured Mr. Keatons by his attorney.

Brighten Up Orpheum.

New drapes, new carpets and a bath for the exterior of the house—these are high spots in a full house-renovation scheme now being carried out by the Orpheum. Heavy blue drapes, which have been considered rather bloomy during the winter season, are to give place to those of rose-pink color, as well as the theater's interior to be brightened up. New carpets will be laid on the upper floors. The exterior of the house is to be restored to an approach to something of its whiteness.

INGRAM-TERRY MARRIAGE TO TAKE PLACE IN IRELAND.

By Grace Kingsey.

With the practical completion of the cast for Rex Ingram's new Metro picture, "The Prisoner of Zenda," it has been learned that the marriage of the youthful director and his featured player, Alice Terry, will not take place until the conclusion of one additional production.

Back of this statement lies a story. Mr. Ingram is determined to make this Miss Terry's last screen work after marriage.

Miss Terry, whose meteoric rise in filmdom is one of the wonders of the picture world, is equally interested in working before the cameras.

Hence the decision to make one more picture, following "The Prisoner of Zenda," before the wedding ceremony, which, it is expected, will take place in Ireland, his native land, where his father is an ordained clergyman in the Episcopal church. It is likely that Mr. Ingram will make a picture there.

Miss Terry, of course, will play the principal feminine role. The picture promises to rival any of the great productions that bear the stamp of the Ingram name. Miss Terry will be seen as the queenly Flavia of the "Home romances."

The cast is a remarkable one. Lewis Stone will play the dual role of King and Queen. Mr. Stone, incidentally, is a big local favorite because of his repeated appearances on the speaking stage here.

Robert Edeson, star of the stage and screen, has signed a contract under which he will enact the role of Col. Sept., while Stuart Holmes, villain de luxe of a thousand dramas, will be Beck Michael.

Edward G. Robinson, famous as Uncle Nat in the stage productions of "Shore Acres," has been selected as the principal male villain. He is the result of a contest in which scores of beauties in the Middle West competed. The roles of Rupert Hughes and Anna May, and the part of the King's page, will not have yet been filled. It is probable that a selection from several male stars now under consideration as potential Ruperts, will be made within a day or two.

Many O'Hares, who has been retained as scenarioist exclusively for Ingram productions, has completed a script that has the merit of closely fitting the story and providing the sort of ending that the theatergoer likes best.

Zasu Pitts Engaged.

That clever young actress, Zasu Pitts, has been engaged to play a leading part in "For the Defense," by Elmer Rice, which is serving as a curtain raiser for Mr. Ingram's production of "The Conquering Power," has been given the picture's most important rôle.

Elmer Rice, who has been retained as scenarioist exclusively for Ingram productions, has completed a script that has the merit of closely fitting the story and providing the sort of ending that the theatergoer likes best.

Universal Company Back Soon.

The Universal company in "Revenant's" charge is expected to return to Los Angeles soon. Carl Laemmle, who has been making exteriors for "The Affairs of Anatol" as the special production to be flashed on the screen during the month of November, will bring along his wife, Mildred, and Lady Parker, wife of Sir Gilbert Parker, enact roles in the De Mille production, which is being shown locally at Grauman's.

Charles Ray Heard From.

Charles Ray has decided that his forthcoming trip to New York, his very first trip, by the way, will be extended over the holidays. Accompanying him will be his wife, Mrs. Charles Ray, and his son, Albert A. Kidder.

At present the Ray studies are working at top speed finishing four Ray-styled dramas. These are "The Devil's Spades," "Gas Oil and Water," "The Barnstormer," and "Snudge."

During his eastern trip Mr. Ray will visit Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, making personal appearances at certain of the theaters there.

Bill Hart Telegraphs.

William S. Hart, who is visiting New York for the first time in several years, is hankering for Los Angeles, according to a telegram received at Sid Grauman's offices here today.

"The tremendous welcome accorded me in the big camp, where runs the Eastern Broadway, is only exceeded by the great Western cities," says Mr. Hart. "I am looking forward to a happy stay in Los Angeles."

BOLSHEVISM IS NOT PANACEA.

Russian Workingmen Are Against System.

Has Not Solved Troubles of the Toilers.

Election Would Result in Overthrow.

BY LARRY RUM.
(BY CALIFORNIA EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

REVAL, Oct. 12.—Bolshevism avowedly is a workingmen's institution, yet if there were an election in Russia tomorrow I would unhesitatingly predict a landslide for the opposition on the strength of the labor vote.

If Russian laboring men could freely communicate with the other workers, every pretense on the part of radical labor through the world would end. The cause of Bolshevism would be destroyed, providing the undernourished workingmen with whom we have spoken can be believed.

I have conversed with workers in Tiflis, Batum, Rostov and from Astrakhan along the Volga to Samara, and excluding a few chiefs who were not in sympathy with the government, I do not know of a single instance where the actual workers were in sympathy with the government.

NO FAITH IN SYSTEM.

Outside of the government officials and their every no less than unanimous agreement on the subject, and a few soldiers and sailors, I did not meet one who, when the cards were on the table, had faith in Bolshevism.

Most workingmen oppose it, but the majority were despairingly and hopelessly resigned to the drudgery of their existence, exerting all their efforts to solve the imminent problem of food, as they had no time for thought of tomorrow.

READY TO TELL TROUBLES.

To get the truth I was forced to dodge my interpreter, who as a Russian, I need hardly assume, spoke a little English, and with the little Russian that I knew we managed to get along. I obviously was a foreigner, traveling without special care invariably given to officials or important visitors by the government, and I shared enough sympathies with them to insure confidence and to awaken their sympathy.

When I was alone with the people of Tiflis, I endeavored to tell my troubles, but when the interpreter appeared to interrupt they were silent. This contrasted with the attitude of the starved peasants who had come to the city to protest the tides against the government, even in the presence of soldiers and officials.

Every one had the same complaint. "Not enough to eat."

FINAL ACTION ON TAX BILL DELAYED.

VOTE ON MEASURE BEFORE WEEK AFTER NEXT NOW SEEMS UNLIKELY.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Final action on the tax bill in the Senate now seems unlikely before next week after next. The interruption to Senate business caused by the death of Senator Knox probably will prevent a vote on the bill on Friday, October 21, the date planned by the Senate leaders.

An adjournment of the Senate today out of respect to the memory of Senator Knox prevented any consideration of the tax bill. Senator Penrose, chairman of the Finance Committee, said that the bill might be considered for a brief time tomorrow. There will be no session of the Senate on Saturday as the funeral of Senator Knox will take place on that date. The Senate will then take up the bill for a final vote on the German peace treaty from tomorrow until next Monday.

Senator Penrose said that if the Democratic committee dilatory tactics in connection with the bill force him to insist upon night sessions, he will insist upon night sessions.

Republican leaders charged that the Democrats are seeking to prolong consideration of the tax bill in order to defer the enactment of a protective tariff.

The Democrats do not admit that they are filibustering over the tax bill; several of their members have taken turns making speeches on political matters and delaying the retarding progress on the measure.

Organizations representing the various industries which use alcohol for industrial or medicinal purposes are continuing their efforts to insure the defeat of the amendment proposed by Republican members of the Finance Committee providing for a tax of $6.40 per proof gallon on distilled spirits and $1.20 on beer at $4.20, where it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that the spirits were used for legitimate nonbeverage purposes.

SECURITIES TURNED OVER TO RECEIVER.

OVER $7,000,000 SURRENDERED BY HEAD OF CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETY OF AMERICA.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Securities said to total more than $7,000,000 today were turned over to the Central National Bank by the liquidators for the Co-operative Society of America, by Harrison Parker, president of the society, which has been active in bank work. The securities were turned over after Mr. Parker had spent the day in testifying in the receivership proceedings. They consisted largely of stock in companies primarily in Mid-West.

Mrs. Harrison Parker, said to possess about $2,000,000 in Liberty Bonds and other securities belonging to the society or its subsidiaries did not appear today and her whereabouts still was a mystery.

UNDERTAKERS NOT TO BLAME.

Extravagance of the People Causes High Cost of Funerals.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Oct. 12.—Americans are extravagant in funerals, and it is not the undertaker who should be blamed for the high cost of funerals, according to a report adopted by the National Funeral Directors' Association, in convention here today.

A committee on legislation declared that there are 15,000 too many undertakers in the United States, and that this is causing high prices on funerals. The number should be reduced by Federal legislation, raising the requirements for license as an embalmer, it was declared.

VISIT FROM HARDING IS PROMISED.

President Says He Will Come to Coast Next June if Congress Adjourns.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—President Harding will visit Los Angeles and the Coast next June. That is based on a guarantee given him today by several California Congressmen that the national Legislature would have completed its work by that time.

The President thinks the guarantees a good one, and is making his plans accordingly. "He promises to visit the west coast," Senator Shortridge said as a delegation headed by Senator Shortridge called at the White House to present to the Chief Executive a solid gold invitation to the opening of the San Francisco Shrine on the occasion of the national gathering of that body in the Bay City early in June of next year.

Accompanying Senator Shortridge were Congressmen Osborne, Lineberger, Curry, Raber, Free and Swine. Prominent Masons from the Coast included W. L. Flimer of San Francisco, official representative of the Shriner; E. K. Knutson of Los Angeles, and Perry Weidner of Los Angeles. Mrs. Weidner also was in the party. Senator Shortridge presented Flimer as the spokesman of the party, and he in turn in a brief address explained that the Shrine has set its heart on having the Chief Executive of the United States as the guest of honor at its opening, and as a token of their desire presented him with a solid gold plaque. On one side is a beautifully inscribed invitation to be the guest of honor and on the other evidence that President Harding has been made an honorary life member of Islam Shrine of the Mystic Shrine of San Francisco.

President Harding turned to the array of Congressmen and said that if they would guarantee that Congress would finish its work and adjourn by that time he would accept on his behalf the invitation and make the pledge that Congress would not delay his going and on that basis he plans to be on the Coast early next summer.

Senator Osborne insisted that the President could not come to the Coast and not visit Los Angeles and the President answered that he would not think of coming to California and leaving his friends there. He also reminded the delegation that his sister lived in Santa Ana and would have something to say about his visit to the Southland.

It is known that President Harding desires at the first opportunity to visit the coast and see some of the problems of the part of the United States first hand. After his visit to California he will make the Alaskan trip.

NEBRASKA OFFICIALS ON WAY HERE TO GET CUSTODY OF MASSE, WOHLBERG.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 12.—Elliott B. Smock of Dayton, Fla., indicted by a special grand jury that investigated stock and other transactions in Nebraska, on a charge of embezzlement of $28,150 in money and securities, from the Industrial Chemical Supply Company of Omaha, of which he was vice-president, pleaded not guilty before District Judge Troup here today. The company now is in the hands of a receiver.

County Attorney Shotwell and Sheriff Clark left here today for California in an effort to return to Jacobs Charles S. Wohlberg and Jacob Masse, who were recently indicted by the special grand jury to charge against them, according to Atty.-Gen. McGuire, is aiding and abetting embezzlement from the Missouri Valley Cattle Loan Company of Omaha.

NAVY WIRELESS MAY TELL OF CONFERENCE.

PLAN FOR SENDING OUT NEWS OF WASHINGTON MEET IS SUGGESTED.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Navy wireless facilities may be utilized to disseminate news of the Disarmament Conference, if recommendations of some high administration officials are adopted. It was said today details of the problem of overhauling transmitters of naval wireless equipment will be worked out by the State Department, but a suggestion for use of the Navy radio to supplement commercial wireless and cable facilities probably would receive favorable consideration. Another suggestion which may be given attention is that the conference broadcast daily through the Navy wireless an official resume of the developments.

ROUGH LIFE LED BY GREEK KING.

Luxuries Left Behind When He Went to Front.

Makes Home in Old Turkish Harem in Asia.

Eats Rough Food of Soldiers, Has Few Diversions.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

ESKI-SHEHIR (Anatolia) Sept. 2.—When King Constantine departed from Athens for the Asia Minor front he left behind whatever luxuries, pleasures and diversions belong to a monarch. Today, he is living in a mud house in this ancient Turkish settlement, with only his bodyguards and companions. His living room is a dirt floor with quotations from the Koran, was until recently the harem of a prosperous local Turk. His bed is a modest iron affair that might be found in any American lodging-house.

BATS SOLDIER FOOD.

The King eats the same coarse food as his soldiers. The palace cooks and chefs were left in Athens. Eski-Shehir affords little that could be called luxurious. The chief diet of the 50,000 inhabitants is mutton hash. The town is 100 miles (160 km.) This is not Constantine's regimen, but often his meals have consisted only of the native Turkish bread, a can of sardines and a fragment of goat cheese. There is no wine to be had. Tea, coffee and water are the universal beverages.

When the King received the Associated Press correspondent he spoke of the poor surroundings and expressed the hope that the reporter had found better accommodations.

"I suppose we must expect some discomforts and inconveniences in a country like Asia Minor," Constantine indulgently. "but I wouldn't mind if only the houses were clean. This place wasn't fit for habitation when I came here first. But now after a day or two of sweeping and scrubbing and disinfecting we've managed to make the rooms tolerably clean."

BATH GREATEST DESIRE.

"Since I came to Anatolia I think we've encountered every form of insect and bug that natural history speaks of. My greatest desire is to get a real bath."

Apart from the rather severe living conditions that confront the King, he has few or no diversions. He has no books or papers. The walls of his homey Turkish domicile It probably would be unsafe to do so.

Except for officers of the army, he has few or no visitors. His personal attendants are the habitues of the court, of course, remained in Athens. The King passes much of his time perusing reports from his army and reading American and foreign books whenever possible.

Being a soldier, Constantine doesn't seem to mind the lack of comforts and the little hardships he has to contend with here. He is essentially democratic and simple in his tastes. It is this democracy and simplicity that have endeared him to his soldiers. That is why they call him patera (our father). The King's wife, Queen Sophie, has not permitted him to take active command in the field. He still has traces of his old pleural trouble.

CARTOON USED IN POSTAL BULLETIN.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL SPRINGS "NEW SURPRISE-EDUCATION OF PUBLIC IS AIM."

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Postmaster-General Hays, whose administration has been marked by a succession of innovations and revolutions, had another surprise for the public today when the Daily Postal Bulletin, a leaflet on postal service, appeared with a cartoon on the first page.

This innovation, in which the services of postmen throughout the country have been automated, undertaken in an effort to drive home facts about the proper addressing of mail, early mailing and preparing the Chesterfield.

Today's cartoon presents a business man in conversation with his clerk. The business man tells the clerk an instance in which he prepared to send out, that the addresses are too dim and indistinct, and that if he can't read them, what could be expected from the "hard-working" post office clerks.

"Oh, that's what they're paid for," responded the clerk. The next picture shows the business man hurling the letter into the letter slot in the clerk's face and ejaculating: "Put a red ribbon on your typewriter and do them right—that's what you're paid for."

USE POTASH SALT TO PREVENT CANCER.

SHOULD BE SUBSTITUTED FOR COMMON TABLE SALT, SAYS DOCTOR.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Humanity has been constantly at work "refining" its food, until it has been gradually robbed of nutriment. Bread made of white flour lacks the wholesome elements of wheat, and vegetables are boiled in such a way that all their valuable mineral salts, and especially potash, are thrown away with the boiling water.

Herein may lie the secret of the cause of cancer and its remedy. Specialists have recently been quoted as saying that common salt contains potassium chloride, or common table salt, for common salt. It is the source of red blood and vitality, of endurance and energy.

You need but a small bit of iron every day, yet this need is vital. You must get it in your food—meat, fish, fruit, vegetables.

PITTSBURG (Kan.) Oct. 13.—From his cell in the Cherokees County Jail in Columbus, where he received a telegram from John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, announcing the suspension of District 14, Alexander Howat made this statement:

"To Hell with John Lewis and Gov. Allen. Our plans are unchanged. We will continue the fight."

Howat and all other district miners are summarily removed and given no pay during their suspension, the international board member, has been appointed acting president of a provisional district.

The Kansas miners have been idle for two weeks since Howat and Alexander Dorchy, the district vice-president, went to jail to serve a six-months' sentence for violation of the Kansas industrial committee.

The cause of the action of Lewis, however, in suspending the district, is based on the refusal of Howat and his district to go along with a strike of miners called out on strike at the Dean and Reliance mines last spring. The international organization holds that the strike was in violation of agreements with the operators.

LANE MEMORIAL FUND OPENED BY PUBLIC.

CASH WILD ACCRUE TO WIDOW DURING LIFE, THEN HELP AMERICANIZATION WORK.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Decision to open the Franklin K. Lane memorial fund to public participation was announced today by the memorial committee composed of Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Adolph C. Miller, member of the Federal Reserve Board. The committee was made up to make arrangements for his widow, which the slender emoluments of public office make impossible."

The income from the fund will accrue to Mrs. Lane during her lifetime, after which the committee said it probably would be used to promote work in the field of Americanization to which the former Secretary of the Interior devoted a great part of his labor.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Gelling Ready for the Sales Tax; Good Year for L.A.I.; Bond Market at the Turn.

BY CHAPIN HALL

The sales tax plan as a means of producing revenue has had as many ups and downs as an elevator in an office building since it was first seriously considered as one of the reform measures a year or two ago.

Now it is having an "up" and it looks very much as if Congress will adopt it in some form as a part and parcel of the revised Revenue Act of 1921.

Following a country-wide questionnaire, the banking interests have become more favorably disposed to the convention declared in favor of such a tax. The amendment proposed by Senator Smoot would amount to a cent and a half on every dollar of goods as finally finished or produced for consumption or use without further process of manufacture.

The measure is in so far as it is understood by the public is favorably received because it seems to provide a method whereby a number of taxes may be done away with. The amendment seeks to provide income in place of that now secured through the war and excess taxes.

The manufacturers' sales tax would also apply on goods manufactured or produced in countries other than the United States upon the basis of a percentage of the value in excess of $4000 in a single year.

A manufacturer who customarily deals at wholesale and retail would pay a tax on his gross sales in addition of wholesale prices; if selling at retail only, then upon the fair wholesale price. The Senate amendment will be offered from the floor when the measure is up for consideration.

It has been evident for a couple of years that the organization has been advanced by the Tax Commission that eventually a sales tax of some kind would be necessary if our tax problems were to be definitely distributed, but at the same time it is believed that such a tax will work a hardship upon many businesses.

The question really resolves itself into this: Will the public accept it?

It is evident that the public can live with it, but there is by no means a unanimity of opinion as to which will prove the less painful horn to the animal.

The Financial News, for instance, calls the proposed sales tax "brave, off-the-cuff," and declares that it makes up for an omission in the living costs of the German mark is a legally stipulated 1 per cent," says this publication, "by the seller to the consumer, it includes 2 to 4 per cent additional, which is what the consumer has paid it. It is the old game, however. What you do not see will not hurt you. It is the old game, however. What you do not see will not hurt you. It is the old game, however. What you do not see will not hurt you. It is the old game, however. What you do not see will not hurt you."

AN INTERESTING MARKET.

The bond market is in an interesting state of transition at the present time, and is being keenly watched, not only by investment bankers, but by all followers of the market, and the many twists and turns therein.

There appears to be a unanimity of opinion that the day of the bond bargain is fast passing; indeed that day has in the minds of many passed. The absorption power of the market, however, remains more or less an uncertain quantity, and this element is accounting for some of the erratic bidding which has accompanied some of the more recent offerings.

The public appears inclined to adopt a buying attitude, and it may be that too much stress has been laid upon forthcoming issues and probable price levels. The investor is in a quandary as to what he can get for his money that he can get.

For this he cannot be blamed, but a review of the situation leads one to the belief that he will never have another time to buy in as great a supply of fuel to be used in smoking out the wolf than at this present.

The supply of new offerings is not large, and the public seems to be less willing to force their wares upon what is likely to be a falling market. If they can finance their requirements at a lower rate, a few months hence, there is no reason for precipitate releases.

At this time there is no indication of a weakening in the bond market. Temporarily, at least, it is not producing such a result. Dealers are not going to inaugurate a series of bargain days. They don't have to. Their shelves are showing bare spots, and the market is like the market for the investors' wants is likely to pay a big price for his meat.

There is a lot of money being held in America, and for the psychological hour, the opinion of experts that there will be no more favorable bond market than the one which is with us now.

The stock market is showing an income that is reflected in the bond market. The company's record is good, which the price did not often dip. The book value of the stock is approximately $2.20 per share, and the directors have estimated the value to be $3.517,465.00.

The company's earnings so far this year have been so satisfactory that in addition to the regular dividend

THE STORY OF SUGAR.

Its Introduction as a Necessary Article of Diet; Uses and Users; Cycles of Trade.

Business has its romance just as surely as a moonlight night upon a calm sea, and one of the most interesting stories of the beginnings and growth of a great industry is wrapped about our sweet tooth.

Sugar and how it has evolved from a dainty and hardly gained luxury to a common necessity of every-day living, involves a tale worth the telling, and worth the reading, too. In Southern California especially, where thousands of acres and many great factories are devoted to the industry, and where financial interests go deep to its root, will the story make strong appeal.

It has been written for The Times by Edwin G. Smith, of the McDonald Company, and will be presented in a series of copyrighted articles, the second of which will appear on Sunday.—ED.

CHAPTER I.

Centuries before the birth of Christ, sugar was considered a medicine, a toothsome remedy for many of the aches and pains of early civilization. Large amounts were harvested.

Sugar was sympathetic to the general trade, and found a ready market in every hamlet of the land. And thus the time sugar replaced honey as a standard of sweetness, it has been to the tongue as music to the ear, because of the eye, and fragrance to the nostrils.

More than this, it is desired by animals as well as man. It is in this that sugar is sought by the bear in his hunt for wild honey in the forest.

It is the sugar of plants that leads the deer into the cultivated gardens of the farmer. It is the sugar that wins the affection of the dog and the horse. Thus down the line through almost all mammals, there found a liking for sugar and a craving for it which this community can supply.

USERS OF SUGAR.

The users of this great staple are counted by the billions. Nor are these billions confined to particular countries. In ancient times when bread was a luxury and for hundreds of years was persistently demanded at the feasts of the gods, rich, and the sumptuous feasts.

Gradually it evolved from a luxury to a common article of world trade, and with the advent of the eleventh century, sugar became a chief commodity of commerce.

Now it is a staple of universal use.

Cultivating the sugar cane and the beet, both an important source of agriculture, is leading the nation of industry; marketing refined sugar is an objective of wholesalers and retailers of food products throughout

REVIEW OF THE MARKET.

BY FRANKLIN K. SPRAGUE.

DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Financial interest today was converged on other places than the stock exchange; the fall in the German mark to a new low value and the rapid advance of silver bullion quite superseded by local incidents. The reserve bank statements, however, were by no means without significance. Both at the New York bank and in the system as a whole, the ratio of reserves decreased; for both it is now the lowest in a full month. Reserves were greatly increased for the entire reserve system, but at New York they were enlarged by $24,000,000 this past week. The large decrease of the New York bank gold reserves during the last week reported on Sept. 1, of 1,600,000,000 marks in September and of 14,200,000,000, or very nearly 20 per cent above the huge amount outstanding, was due to reparations payments begun at the end of May till the first time since last December. This advance has been fully 12 per cent within the month.

An seventy-one hundredths of a cent, the latest price of the German mark was the lowest yet reported.

Increase of 4,000,000,000 marks in the New York market, and the shifting of credits to interior markets.

It was noteworthy also that notwithstanding the continuous flow of imports, the gold reserves combined decreased this week for the first time since last December.

THE COUNTRY OVER.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—The free movement of agricultural products and the advantageous prices obtained for them provided encouragement for those who had been awaiting the final business situation this week. Large payments were made by country banks to local financial institutions on loans carried over from last year. The banks in the cotton and rice districts and Negroes, watching their indebtedness so rapidly that they are expected to be clear long before January 1. Bank deposits have increased 10 per cent and loans 20, 25 per cent in the last fortnight. Nearly every line of wholesale trade reports its business for September larger in dollars than for the same month last year, and the volume of business has been far greater than in October.

But we must know more. We must understand the influences which cause prosperity and depression in the various departments of agriculture, and we must have knowledge of the origin, the evolution and the future of the industry.

SWINGS OF TRADE.

It is easy to say that stocks will go up or go down, but to scientifically guess the future movements of securities is quite a different matter. Predictions, forecasts and prophecies of future human actions, which determine the movements of shares and obligations, cannot be accomplished with uttering exactness.

In view of the fickle complex nature of men, the wonder is that prognosis can be done at all. But history repeats itself. Like certain products like effects, and when these things are observed over a period of many years, we find an underlying current which, with irregularities,

NAVY PLANNED.

Arthur F. Torrance, Ph.D.

Anchored anchorage for the Pacific Fleet at Los Angeles Harbor is the subject of a conference yesterday between the admiral and his wife, with Admiral Eberle, commanding officer of the Harbor Commission, Capt. Charles C. Moore, senior vice admiral, and Capt. W. H. Eberle, who had told of the importance of safely anchoring the fleet in the harbor, the committee agreed to restore to the Navy the site of the anchorage, which will be occupied by the U.S. Fleet in the future. The site will be anchored in the harbor, and all the ships are showing great willingness to make room for others who have come to the harbor later.

Unusual secrecy shrouds the exact nature of the charges. The action, taken during the recent Methodist conference, was transpired in executive session. The formal record is expected to show that Dr. Torrance was permitted to withdraw under charges.

The charge of immoral conduct was maintained. Dr. Torrance was a year ago and at that time he was not in attendance at the conference. This year he also failed to appear personally to defend himself, due to his friends, to the fact that he is so far removed from the United States.

OTHER WOMAN.

Ministers connected with the conference and those who were on the investigating committee headed by Dr. Byron H. Wilson, superintendent of the Los Angeles district, decline to discuss the charges. Dr. Torrance's wife, who with her baby is in California, could not be located last night, but it was learned that she has been involved in asserted immoral conduct with another woman. The allegations against the former pastor are understood to be based on episodes deemed to have taken place in San Francisco.

Lawyer Says Pacific Electric Can't Stand More Loss.

Long Beach, Inland Cities in Danger of Losing Lines.

Until Mid-December.

Inland cities which are not supporting their street railways are in grave danger of losing them, according to a statement made yesterday by Frank Karr, attorney for the Pacific Electric, at the State Railroad Commission hearing on the trolley line's application for an increase in rates.

Mr. Karr reviewed the transportation situation in Riverside, Redlands, Pomona, Long Beach and Pasadena, and said the company has sustained heavy losses at Pasadena and Long Beach because of jitney competition. He stated that if the cities in question are unable to arrange local transportation that the red line can make operating expenses it will tear out its tracks when the present equipment is worn out.

CANNOT STAND.

Mr. Karr said trackage in some of the inland cities will soon need replacing, and the company cannot stand further loss on these lines. An interim rate schedule might be given by curtailing jitney business and taking off the burden of making the interurban company pay for certain street services.

Related to the situation at Pasadena, General Passenger Agent Smith told the commission that 40 per cent of the Pasadena interurban passengers transfer to the local lines of the Grey Coach free of charge. This, he holds, places the burden on the other 60 per cent, as somebody must pay for these rides. He suggested that enough interurban traffic is to come from Pasadena to carry no transfer privilege and that commutation books carry an extra coupon permitting local transfer in Pasadena for 3 cents a ride.

At Redlands the actual out-of-pocket loss suffered by the company on the local lines was $975; at Redlands it was $12,000; at Pomona it was $18,750, and on the Pine and Magnolia Avenue lines in Long Beach it was $20,000.

HITS BLANKET RATE.

Long Beach made an attack yesterday on the blanket rate to the inland cities, demanding a reduction. The rate has been 75 cents a round trip for a long time. Long Beach wants a lower rate. Mr. Smith explained that if the blanket rate should be reduced to 60 cents, it should be on a straight mileage basis. Long Beach would have to pay 83 cents and Venice would pay 62 cents. He took a strong stand against the abolition of blanket rates.

The company submitted financial reports which indicated that in the course of a year, on all its business, it had been getting 14½ cents per car mile for handling passengers. The commutation book is blamed for this condition, he said.

The hearing was continued yesterday until November 15.

COUNTY AID TO BOOSTER PLAN URGED

Anaheim Chamber Seeks to Have Association Pledge All-Year Fund.

Action has just been taken by the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce that is expected to aid materially in the fund-raising campaign of the All-Year Club of Southern California in Orange county. The advice received by the club yesterday. The Anaheim chamber's publicity committee, it was announced by J. Frederick Ahlborn, chairman of the committee, has recommended that Orange county contribute the first year for an amount commensurate with that which might be given by other counties of the Southland.

The recommendation was made to the publicity committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, which was delegated at the last session of the county association to decide on the way in which Orange county should participate in the all-year plan. This county committee is to make its report at the next session of the associated committee to be held at Newport the last of this month.

"Our publicity committee," Mr. Ahlborn wrote, "has recommended to the publicity committee that the Associated Chamber of Commerce of Orange county that Orange county contribute to the funds of the All-Year Club commensurate with the contribution made by other counties in Southern California, exclusive of Los Angeles county."

Further assistance in the all-year organization in Orange county is expected to come from the executive endorsement of the movement by the Orange County Federation of Women's Clubs, which is to be asked at its meeting tomorrow by Daniel L. Jones, president of the club executive committee. Mr. Jones is to explain the purposes of the movement.

Mrs. J. B. Merrill Came Here When City Was Small Town.

Funeral services for Mrs. J. B. Merrill, age 97 years, who died last Tuesday will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. today at the Mountaintop Mountain View Cemetery, Pasadena.

Until she was 22 she enjoyed good health and worked daily in her little vegetable garden. About a year ago, due to her failing eyesight, she moved to the Mrs. Robert Kent Home, where she died.

G. I. Merrill, her son, formerly owned the S. J. Merrill Oil Company, the later became president and general manager of the California Industrial Iron and Steel Mills. A deceased daughter, Mrs. Sarah Wallace, was the wife of Joseph Wallace, one of the prominent citizens of Southern California.

Mrs. Merrill leaves three grandchildren, Mrs. R. I. Jensen of Sierra Madre, and C. Arthur and Wallace D. Merrill of Bakersfield.

YEN IS GOLD.
Dr. Yen heads the Chinese delegation to the Disarmament Conference. Possibly Yen is in command on the theory that money talks. Dr. Yen ought to make our
Mr. Dollar. They would make a good pair.

ART AND THE CAMERA.
For the first time in history moving pictures are admitted to the autumn exhibition or salons of the French Academy. Painting and sculpture have heretofore monopolized the vision, but now the cinema is given rank with the great arts. Wonder if Doug Fairbanks will be able to get by with his D'Artagnan?

NO CHANGE FOR TROTSEK.
A New Jersey man named Trotsek
has been permitted to change it to Travers.
The laws of the land are sufficiently kind
to enable him to overcome this handicaps.
Any affiliation with the name of Trotsek is bad medicine in this country. Nobody would give Trotsek a job and he couldn't even find him a wife.

PLENTY OF DARK MEAT.
Down in Georgia a Pullman porter is the father of thirty-two children. Of this number twenty-six are still living and in the bloom of health. He has been three times married and has been the parent of seven sets of twins and two groups of triplets.
If a man with a large family deserves
the thanks of his country, what is there coming to a citizen who has three of them?

WHAT IS LIMITATION?
President Harding says that universal disarmament is beyond hope of realization, but an agreement or understanding of limitation is quite possible. The President says that with a reasonable limitation great things will have been accomplished. What a "reasonable limitation" is the conference will have to disclose. President Harding is not disposed to state. He properly feels that it would be courtesy for him to set a mark or create a program.

THE LANDLORD'S PROFIT.
A New York judge ruled in a certain case that 10 per cent net was an ample reward for a landlord. If rentals were charged that brought in excess of that rate they were more than they should be. This would be a wonderful world if all our landlords and hotel-keepers were pinned down to the little old 10 per cent profit. Wonder if the Supreme Court of our beloved country cannot be persuaded to sustain the ruling of the Gothic jurist.

SPIRIT PICTURES.
It is claimed that moving pictures have been taken of the flight of the soul and that at a materialization conducted by an unusually efficient medium the cinema recorded the presence of several visitors from the other world. We are a bit suspicious of trick photography which might easily be involved for this purpose. We have seen pictures of prohibition agents pouring gallons of distilled liquors into the gutter. This is about as near as the camera will ever get to recording the movements of departed spirits.

MUST TAKE A PART.
Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, who has returned from an extended survey of Old World affairs, says that it is impossible for the United States to remain aloof from world problems and be freed from the consequences of world disaster. We can achieve a reputation for selflessness, but not one of disinterestedness. If we have high motives and high principles we will have to take them with us on a world cruise. We can't lock them up in the cellar and still convince other nations that we have them.
If we are ever to collect our debts we must have an active part in the reorganization of Europe.

THE TRAVELING ICE BOX.
The self-refrigerating automotive truck is another contraption calculated to make still more perilous the financial paths of the steam railroads. It is a large but pliant vehicle and its engine stores the power to operate its ammoniated cooling plant. The day may soon come when these trucks can be operated on a transcontinental highway, hauling California fruits to New York.
Some day somebody will want to pour concrete over the steam roads and string a trolley wire overhead. Then they would have a road that could be used for steam, electricity or gasoline and that anybody and everybody could practice on. By that time the accident insurance companies will want to go out of business.

THE YOUNG IDEA.
In connection with naturalization problems a query was conducted in a high school on the East Side in New York. In the quiz of fourth-year students 100 per cent could recognize the picture of President Harding and tell of his office and duties, but only about 20 per cent knew of Thomas A. Edison and his miracles. Next to Harding came Eugene Debs. Ninety-two per cent of the pupils recognized his picture and knew him as the Socialist nominee for President. Not over 40 per cent knew of George Middleton Cox or recognized his photo. Evidently their relatives were not voting for the Old Democrat last fall. Lots of the students knew of Bob La Follette
who were quite ignorant of Henry Cabot Lodge. The Socialists and the radicals are the ones who make the impression on the alien mind. That is why it is well to in-courage a good brand of Americanism as a part of the early school training.

PHILANDER CHASE KNOX.
Another great man of the era of Roosevelt,
McKinley and Taft passed on Wednesday
when death claimed Philander C. Knox, United States Senator from Pennsylvania.
His summons came as he would have had it come, in the midst of his labors, while body and mind were active, struck down like a falling star at the zenith of his career.

For twenty years Senator Knox had occupied the front rank among American statesmen. He was a great attorney, a great diplomat and a great Republican.
Destined selected for his birthplace New York, Indiana or Ohio he doubtless would have attained the high office of President.
But the exigencies of politics demanded that the Republican candidate should come from one of the doubtful States.

Senator Knox accepted the limitation placed upon him by birth without complaint or protest. He recognized that the very loyalty of his native State to the Republican party barred his sons from the office of Chief Executive and he was content to hold those high positions to which birth was not a barrier. He served in the Cabinet under three Republican Presidents, Mc-Kinley, Roosevelt and Taft, first as Attorney-General and then as Secretary of State.

During his entire career Senator Knox
continued to occupy the high plane of statesmanship, never degenerating into a political intriguer after office. He was the idol of the people of Pennsylvania. Three times he was the practically unanimous choice of the delegation from his State for the Republican Presidential nomination. In Pennsylvania he was never forced to campaign for the Senatorship. It came to him as a reward of merit. Neither did he ever aspire to be a political boss or leader. The subterfuges and compromises of practical politics were repulsive to him. "When the time arrives that it will be necessary for me to campaign for office, to go out and stamp the State," he once said, "the time will have come for me to retire."

Senator Knox lacked the tempest and fire of Roosevelt. He was born for a deliberater, not a crusader. His temperament was that of McKinley, Taft and Harding. His policy of studious self-effacement mitigated against his popularity outside his native State. As a Cabinet member his views were always expressed by the mouth of his chief. He was not enamored of the plaudits of the multitude and always avoided the spotlight. In the Senate he spoke but little, yet always from carefully prepared notes; and never in his entire Senatorial career was he forced to address empty benches.

While The Times has not always agreed with the opinions of Senator Knox on questions of international policy, it has always recognized his sincerity and the straightforward manner in which he conducted debate. He represented the highest type of American statesmanship and his demise is a loss to Pennsylvania, to the Senate, to the Republican party and to the nation.

DEMOCRATS GETTING CHESTY.

Washington dispatches relate that the Democratic leaders have so laid their plans that the coming session of the national committee will assume the importance of a lesser national convention. It is to be the occasion for oratorical arraignments of the Republican party for failing to keep its platform pledges. Some of the most noted among the Bourbon spinners are rehearsing philippics with which they hope to start a storm of resentment against the present administration. While there will doubtless be sufficient wind to make a considerable disturbance, there is likely to be a lack of material for manufacturing Democratic hull.

According to present arrangements, ex-
President Wilson is to send an address which is to sound the keynote for the Democratic Congress campaign next year. It is asserted that the ex-President is in much better physical and mental condition than a year ago, that he has been following closely national and international developments since he left the White House and that he is prepared to make a strong case against the Republican majority, due to its failure to enact the promised tariff and revenue legislation.

Unusual importance attaches to the Democratic conference for the reason that its date has been advanced to a point where it will be held on the eve of the first session of the Disarmament Conference. Most of the Democratic leaders have been busily engaged in circulating propaganda unfriendly to that conference. They denounce it as a temporary makeshift, intended to gloss over the opposition of many Republican leaders to the Versailles Treaty. Senator Underwood has been censured by most of the leading Democratic politicians for accepting a place on the American commission. The Democratic big guns wanted the party to maintain a position of opposition, to be clear to lay the blame for any lack of complete success on the Harding administration.

The Times believes that the majority of the Democrats themselves will condemn this advance opposition to the Disarmament Conference. It is a palpable attempt to make partisan capital; while the issue is greatly greater than any or all political parties in the country. Making partisan issues out of national questions is one of the vices of modern political methods in the United States. It is of vastly more importance to the country that a plan be formulated for settling international disputes affecting the Pacific area, without resorting to warfare than that either the Republican or the Democratic party shall win the next Congress elections. Reduction of armaments to a minimum and the removal of the causes that breed wars among the nations are boons that would compensate even for a Democratic victory in 1922; although that would undoubtedly be a severe blow to the prosperity of the country.

Failure to show due diligence in carrying out platform pledges has laid the Republican party open to opposition attack. If Congress had adjourned and would not hold another session before next year's national elections the political situation might be serious. But The Times is serene in the faith that before six more months pass both the tariff and the tax laws will be amended by Congress to conform to the promises of the Republican leaders and the will of the country.

Meanwhile denunciation by the Democratic leaders of the failure of Congress to enact laws which the Democratic members opposed almost in a body is not likely to awaken much of a clamor in the nation as a whole. During the last seven months the Democratic minority in both houses had fought every administration measure, re-

HELD FOR DEATH OF JAPANESE.

TAKE NO CHANCES WITH UNLUCKY 13.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
PORTERVILLE, Oct. 13.—Because Frank Tilley, negro, had a "hunch" that 13 is his unlucky day, his preliminary trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon was postponed today until October 20.

A large crowd of spectators, including many witnesses among them prominent physicians and the District Attorney, filed disconsolately away.

Tillie Ware, a negro woman, alleges that Frank Tilley wielded a pick handle with such vigor over the head of her husband as to seriously injure him.

Spirited Legal Battle at Santa Ana; Placentia Ranch Hand Ends Life.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 13.—That a spirited legal battle is in prospect in the case of Irving Steele, charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. T. Aoto, following an automobile accident near Anaheim, April 3, developed early in the trial, which started yesterday.

Steele, who is foreman of the Whittier Heights Citrus Association packing-house, was charged with traveling at an excessive rate of speed when he struck a truck occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Aoto, their boy and three other Japanese.

In the collision, Mrs. Aoto was thrown from the truck to the pavement where one of the truck wheels passed over her. She died later in an Anaheim hospital.

Branding over continued till health of Steele, an employee on the Bradford ranch near Placentia, to end his life with a shotgun yesterday, while his wife was in bed. He had sent her a letter which he had sent her. Steele took advantage of the absence and accomplished his purpose.

When Mrs. Aoto returned to the house she found her husband unconscious. Help was summoned, but death occurred within a short time. As the case was plainly suicide, it was expected that Steele would be tried. In addition to his wife, Steele left three stepchildren. The body had been removed to Fullerton.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

The Seafarer has been towed into San Diego Bay and is being held at the municipal pier under blue-jacket guard.

Federal authorities say they have discovered a gigantic liquor-smuggling plot extending from San Francisco to Ensenada, with powerful interests back of it as passengers.

The liquor aboard the Seafarer was to have been landed in Half Moon Bay.

An effort will be made to bring her to this city for a hearing on this charge, but if it is sustained the court will be asked to send her to the Ventura Home for Girls.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONG BEACH, Oct. 13.—Although barrel after barrel of pure crude oil was brought up from the depths of the Horch well by the Shell Company of California by the bailer late this afternoon officials of the oil company announced that they do not know positively as yet whether they have a perfect water shut off. The well is being watched carefully as it may come in any minute.

Oil pressure has been increasing as the weight of the water in the well is lessened with each dip of the bailer. A large quantity of oil has been removed by the bailer with the water. The bringing in of the Horch well will be the last of the west end of the field. The hole is located on the northwest slope of Signal Hill near Cherry Boulevard.

WEAVE ROMANCE INTO CITY LIFE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

PASADENA, Oct. 13.—Euphonious names for Pasadena streets, names that are of Indian or Spanish colonial origin or in other ways suggest California and the West, are proposed for official adoption hereafter.

This suggestion was made to the City Board of Directors today by City Manager C. W. Koller, the suggestion being inspired by a desire of East End residents to change the name of Railroad street to Mountain View.

The City Directors concurred in the suggestion of the City Manager. So hereafter new thoroughfares in Pasadena will bear the mellifluous nomenclature of Old Spain, Early California, the redskin or the outdoor West. Names suggesting Iowa, Illinois and points east will be barred.

Officers Seek Evidence of Whisky Ring.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 13.—Finding a string of shifts belonging to the Oxnard beet sugar factory adrift or beached near Point Hueneme, today has led to an investigation by Sheriff McGillicuddy of Ventura County, and Sheriff James Ross of this county, under the belief that a large consignment of liquor has been landed along the Ventura coast.

The officers said the shifts were cut from their mooring at the Hueneme wharf. About the same time farmers reported seeing flashes out on the channel. Last night threeformed guards, placed by the sugar factory management at the wharf, surprised nine Japanese. Repeated flashes were seen in the channel just before this.

The surmise is that the Japanese were after more boats to row into the channel and take on another cargo of liquor, probably smuggled in from Mexico.

WOMEN'S CITY CLUB IS BUSY.

New Point of View is Gained From Supervisors' Work.

Expenditures Formerly Held as Needless Indorsed.

Co-operation With Officers in Upholding Laws Urged.

BY MYRA NYE.

Watching the spectacular round-up of 225 delinquent husbands by proxy was one of the duties or pleasures of the subcommittee of public affairs reported yesterday by Miss H. C. Fallang, at the luncheon session of the Women's City Club.

Still other novel excitement was felt by the committee in the hearing of complaints of thirty men before the Board of Appeals on Monday when they asked for a reduction of their taxes; learning how the county kills millions of squirrels for the farmers; listening to the news of the sporadic arrests told of sixty-six arrests watching the amicable settlement between the Supervisors and a body of twenty-four men who wanted to create a new town on the San Joaquin in the San Gabriel basin, going to luncheon at the County Farm with Supervisor Sean, visiting the twenty boys in jail and seeing the 140 juvenile cases of the county, to name but a portion of the 2,700 boys and girls on probation.

Of sixteen committees reports given with Mrs. J. B. Stearns, president, and Mrs. Cora Deal Lewis, head of the public affairs committee, preceding the remarkable report of Mrs. Fallang was the only one indicating work accomplished. The others told of the particular work the clubs hope to do before the year is over.

Mrs. Thomas J. Atchley, Mrs. Earl McClintock, Miss Vilma MacArthur and Mrs. Harry Speakman are the other members of the committee who sat down to talk after the County Supervisors and report to the club of a thousand members what is transpiring on this public scene. So far the committee has attended every meeting of the Supervisors this year.

CITIZENS STOCKHOLDERS.

"Each citizen of the county is a stockholder in the county corporation," said Mrs. Fallang, "and he should be interested in the dividends in the dividends in results accomplished."

ANSWERED LETTERS.

Entertainer: "I suppose you can't tell me a little too previous, but I want to give a Halloween party this year. What time do you wait till the last minute to ask for help? Is there any way that I could use my attic in such a party? I would like some unusual features."

Answer: Send stamped self-addressed envelope for my printed article entitled "What Every Party Needs." You should have time to remember, I only wish all of my readers who desire such help would write this early. When a reader sends me a letter for me to send to my event, she should allow four weeks to be on the safe side—for remember, I receive a great many letters and they must be answered in the order of their arrival.

Constant Reader: "What will take place on the night of the Haunted House?"

Answer: Remove the paint spots with either naphtha, turpentine, benzine or chloroform. These are all dangerous fluids, so three persons must be near by, name, and the last-named if inhaled care must be taken in handling them. Ice cream has more or less grease in it (if the cream is rich) and this may be washed off in cold water with soap applied to the spot, then washing with soap or pouring hot water through it. The spots ought to disappear with this treatment. Experiment with the color of the stain before applying the dress to this treatment. That is, put a little cream on a saucer, let dry, then soak, wash in cold soapy water, and let dry. If the color of the stain has not changed, you can easily go ahead with the spots on the dress.

Typical Housewife: "Can you give me remedy for roaches?"

Answer: Plaster of paris and flour mixed with a paste with water is one method of extermination; the paste is put in a saucer and next to the roaches. The roaches eat the plaster of paris paste, then go for the water and die.

Bride: "My kitchen is infested with ants. What shall I do?"

Answer: Soak a sponge in sugar-and-water and place it in a part of the kitchen through which you think the ants enter. The insects will become entangled in the sponge and make them support their wives and children than for the county to support them. We were convinced that the case of the knocker against the $690 squirrel bill which seemed enormous to the farmer had no kick coming at all. The farmers voted to have the county kill off the pests. In one specific case there were 100 acres which were over four times. The farmer himself had voted to have it done but when it came to the bill he was not willing to pay."

Mrs. H. S. Creager: reporting for the citizenship committee, indicated that the things to be stressed were co-operation with officers to stop violation of the traffic ordinances and to uphold the Volstead Act.

Mrs. Herbert Cable: of the industry committee, said the present work of his department would be took after the evil of child labor in the amusement world. Mrs. Helen Mathewson Lambkin, education, emphasized the need for the passage of the Sterling bill.

CHARGES WIFE WITH CRUELTY.Gilmore Case Presents Array of Peculiar Angles.Woman in Sanatorium, but is Represented in Court.Oil Man Declares Daughter of Packer Deserter Him.

Presenting the unusual features of the defendant being confined in a private sanatorium, though represented by counsel, the divorce action of Earl E. Gilmore, president of the A. F. Gilmore Company and of the Gilmore Petroleum Company, against Mr. Louis H. Gilmore, only daughter of Julius Hauser, pioneer packer, was called yesterday in Judge Wellborn's court. Mrs. Hauser was confined at Elizabeth September 27, last, and her brother, E. C. Hauser, who filed the petition, was appointed guardian of her person and estate.

Under the law, an insane person cannot be sued, but in this case the court will determine whether Mrs. Gilmore was or was not insane at the time the act complained of by Mr. Gilmore. These date back to 1916.

Mr. Gilmore is 34 years of age and interested in many things. He stated that because of his activities, it was necessary for him to leave home at 5 o'clock in the morning.

The trial proceeded yesterday afternoon with Mr. Gilmore as the first witness. He said he was married in this city Nov. 21, 1912, and the separation occurred Sept. 21, 1920.

There are two children, Frances Louise, 7, and Elizabeth Jane, 5 years of age. He charges his wife with cruelty and desertion.

Mr. Gilmore is represented by his attorneys, Stuart Salisbury and James A. Anderson, to prove the purported acts of Mrs. Gilmore.

It is his contention that she was adjusted only after considerable work.

While they were living at 217 South Wilton Place he said that Mrs. Gilmore refused to treat guests as if they were her own children.

He refused to get breakfast for him while he was ill in bed. He got his own breakfast, he said, and built a fire in the library, then opened the door in the dining room and commenced to dust and sweep, forcing him to leave the room. She locked him out of the house and he had to force the doors and windows in order to gain entrance.

Mrs. Gilmore, he complained, charged her husband with other acts of misconduct, all of which he declares were false. In her answer she denies his charges and sets up reasons why B. D. Doolittle was released by Mr. Gilmore. The case was continued until Monday.

COUNCIL TO GET CENSOR PLAN TODAYAttempt to Rush Vote Will be Blocked; Substitute for Film Law to be Urged.*

City Attorney Stephens this morning will present to the City Council the ordinance which he was requested by the Council to prepare creating a board of motion-picture censors with power to preview and license all moving films made to be shown in Los Angeles. An attempt to secure an immediate vote on the ordinance, it was agreed yesterday among the Councilmen who are opposed to censorship, will be ruled out and consideration of the regulation laid over for one week, in order that arguments can be made to the Council and communications and resolutions which have been presented may be read.

Believing that the ordinance calling for the creation of an all-powerful censor board would not receive the six votes necessary to enact it, some of the Councilmen are preparing to present an alternative ordinance creating a "toothless" board of motion-picture censors with authority to recommend to the City Prosecutor that the showing of a film should be prohibited. As an citizen now has this right to complain to the City Prosecutor about any film which in the citizen's judgment should not be exhibited in Los Angeles, the alternative ordinance will be opposed as being unnecessary.

The compromise measure will be introduced in an effort partly to meet the demands of the ministers of religion, urging strong censorship, but the latter, at their meeting last Tuesday in the Y.M.C.A. Building, voted to oppose any compromise measure, and it is necessary to go down to defeat without flying, fighting for their original board of seven all-powerful censors.

While they were living at 217 South Wilton Place he said that Mrs. Gilmore refused to treat guests as if they were her own children.

He refused to get breakfast for him while he was ill in bed. He got his own breakfast, he said, and built a fire in the library, then opened the door in the dining room and commenced to dust and sweep, forcing him to leave the room. She locked him out of the house and he had to force the doors and windows in order to gain entrance.

Mrs. Gilmore, he complained, charged her husband with other acts of misconduct, all of which he declares were false. In her answer she denies his charges and sets up reasons why B. D. Doolittle was released by Mr. Gilmore. The case was continued until Monday.

"Risks"

Every investment, whatever its nature, contains some element of risk. The degree of risk determines the interest rate to which it is entitled.

Fifteen years ago, authorities would probably have listed British 2½% Consols (perpetual loan) as the World's Premier Security.

Counted in 1926, British Consols, by their market conditions, have "appraised" British Credit as a Risk. Selling at 107 in 1927 they dropped to 75 during the Spanish Rebellion of 1925, fully recovering by 1929.

Deprived by the French Wars to 53½ in 1782, they recovered rapidly only to be driven to a new low of 47½ by the Continental Wars and Irish Rebellion in 1798.

The advance news of Waterloo, which is said to have provided the foundation of one of the greatest states, found them selling in the 60's, from which they advanced steadily to 114 in 1896; the Franco-Prussian War of 1870 affecting them only slightly.

Today they sell around 50 and have yielded their value as the World's Premier Security.

You can change any investment! It is wise to follow the progress of one's investments and change as the times; particularly in times like the present.

"Successful investing is a difficult problem.
Competent, disinterested advice is helpful."

Investment Questions

QUESTION—what is the meaning of "Preferred," as used in "Preferred Stock"?

Answer—A great many corporations issue two kinds of stock—Preferred and Common. The difference between the two classes is that the dividends on the Preferred stock must be provided for before the directors may declare a dividend on the Common stock; also, in case the business should be sold, the Preferred stockholders are entitled to receive the full par value of their stock before the Common stockholders may be remunerated for their shares. Further, the dividend rate on Preferred stock is usually fixed by the charter of the corporation, while the rate on Common stock is determined by the amount available for dividends after the Preferred dividend has been paid.

The Stock now being offered by us is Preferred.

Another part of the treatment is Blue-jay Foot Powder, a pleasing deodorant. The three articles—obtainable at all druggists—keep your feet in perfect condition and end nervous annoyance and constant irritation.

GUNMAN RUNOR HAS NO BASIS IN TRUTH.

TRUCKLOAD OF DESPERADOES IN OIL FIELDS PROVES WAR-BER AND FAMILY.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—With armed conflict imminent in the strike district in the San Joaquin oil fields, leaders of the strikers announced earlier today that they would appeal to Gov. Stephens for State troops. The actual appeal, however, was withheld pending a meeting of the district council in Bakersfield, at which the situation is being discussed.

The announcement of the strike leaders followed a clash last night between members of the strikers' law and order committee and what was described as a "train load of gunmen" in the Kern fields near Bakersfield. The strikers charge that the gunmen were brought into the district by the oil operators.

MAKE STATEMENT.

Approved of the announcement of the oil workers regarding the militia. G. M. Swindell, secretary of the oil production organization, made emphatic denial of San Francisco that the companies had imported gunmen. He admitted, however, that a number of guards had been sent in to protect company property.

The following statement on the reported clash was made today by A. C. McLaughlin, vice-president of the Associated Oil Company whose property the incident occurred:

"The 'clash' consisted of one of the strike patrols, comprising a considerable number of armed men, who had been sent in to assist in chasing an Associated Oil Company employee named S. L. Gardner, who was unarmed, and accompanied only by his wife and child. He was on the property of the oil company's property. The 'truckload of armed guards' consisted solely of Gardner, his wife and child. The only arms in evidence at any time were those carried by this so-called law and order committee.

The Associated Oil Company has imported into the fields no armed men whatever."

Mr. J. Yarrow, union adviser, said tonight that a message had been sent to the Governor requesting troops, but that it was withheld from publication "for various reasons." He said he did not believe the Governor would give it out, either.

Asked whether it was withheld because it discussed the attitude of civil authorities here, he did not decline to say.

Mr. Yarrow would not give his reasons for withholding the message, adding that "extreme delicacy would be required by both sides in the controversy to prevent a situation necessitating troops."

The rounding up of the alleged perpetrators of the kidnaping which occurred last Monday in Coalinga is continuing rapidly. Charges of burglary, assault with a deadly weapon, and kidnaping have been entered.
